A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 10 July 2003 has been entered.

The receipt of the certified translation of the foreign priority document is acknowledged and the rejections under 35 USC 102(a) set forth in the previous Office actions are withdrawn.

Claims 19 and 20 are objected to because of the following informalities:

Claims 19 and 20 recite use of a peptide which "lacks epitopes recognized by said antibodies." Although claims 19 and 20 further limit the subject matter of claim 18 in other regards, the recitation that the peptide lacks epitopes recognized by the antibodies of claim 18 is redundant since this feature is also recited in claim 18.

In claim 20, line 1, "antibodies" is misspelled.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 18-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 18 is indefinite because it does not use consistent language throughout. It is suggested that clarity would be improved if "core" were to be inserted between

Art Unit: 1648

"(HCV)" and "antigen" in line 1 of the preamble; "core" inserted between "anti-HCV" and "antibodies" in line 2 of step (a); and "and/or" substituted for "or" in line 2 of step (b).

Claim 19 is indefinite because the recitation of "peptide(s)" in line 4 lacks clear antecedent in claim 18 which recites a "peptide."

Claim 22 is indefinite because it depends from claim 18 and recites "said detergent" without antecedent. Claim 22 may have been intended to depend from claim 21.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 21 and 22 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 8-12 of copending Application No. 10/133007. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 8-12 of Application No. 10/133007 are drawn to a method of detecting HCV core antigen in the presence of the same detergents as those recited in instant claims 21 and 22, which also encompass the detection of HCV core antigen.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

It is noted that application No. 10/133007 is scheduled to issue on 23 September 2003 as US Patent No. 6623921.

Applicant has indicated willingness to submit a terminal disclaimer when the claims are otherwise allowable.
